For over 50 years, Chemtax Group has been providing the knitting, weaving, wool spinning to dyeing and finishing industries in Asia and Greater China. From wool to dyeing and finishing industry, more choices and flexibility, and together to create a global textile industry, have been widely praised by the industry.

Chemtax is headquartered in Hong Kong and has complete sales and service offices in Mainland China, Taiwan, Macau, Bangkok, Myanmar, Vietnam and Cambodia. Chemtax's agency project is centered on "weaving equipment" and includes more than 20 leading European textile brands with a long history and reputation. The renowned STOLL computerized flat knitting machines from Germany and SANTONI seamless circular knitting machines, circular knitting machines and small diameter sock machines from Italy are the pioneers of the international textile industry from fashion, sportswear, footwear, medical and industrial applications. Today, Chemtax Group has the largest service team in the Greater China region and Asia. The service structure is based on the principle of being close to the needs of the industry in the local market, providing regional sales, installation and after-sales services for different products, including basic and customized training, fast parts supply network and maintenance services, as well as tripartite feedback cooperation with the original manufacturer and the customer's R&D department in technology, equipment and product development.

With 50 years of development experience, the mission and core energy of Chemtax Group, and its service-oriented corporate purpose, we have established long-term strategic and cooperative partnerships with our agents from the original manufacturers to the customers we serve. In addition, we have established business relationships with pioneering customer groups that go beyond the scope of suppliers and customers, such as introducing foreign-invested cooperation projects, providing new production technologies, and assisting global customers in developing overseas markets, etc. We play a bridging role of international brands, production suppliers to original machinery manufacturers, and develop amazing and outstanding industrial alliances and economic benefits.

Chemtax always insists on the spirit of "openness, modesty, trust, innovation, research and development, and professionalism", and it is the mission and vision of the company to work together with each partner to make the textile industry longer and longer.
